

Travelling back to old Hong Kong

4C ARSALA MAHMOOD

Today the time machine took me back to old Hong Kong in 1880. I was surprised because there weren't any supermarkets or airports.

It was exciting to visit a house. Nobody played computers. Everybody played with homemade toys. They made toys by themselves. It was easy and fun. Nobody used microwave ovens. Everybody used gas stoves. Then, I talked to Chow Yun Fat. He said 'Hi, I'm Chow Yun Fat, who are you?' So I said, 'Hi I'm Arsala. Let's be friends?' He said 'Ok.' I felt so happy because I got to see Chow Yun Fat. He was great!

It was interesting to see what old Hong Kong was like 144 years ago. I think life was better in the past.
