These days I have been reading a book called Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. This book is about an exciting adventure which starts at Willy Wonda's chocolate factory. Charlie's family are very poor. Every year on Charlie's birthday, he can enjoy one bar of Willy Wonka's chocolate solely. On Charlie's ninth birthday, he wins a golden ticket to visit Willy Wonda's factory. He and four other lucky children set off excitedly to visit Willy Wonka's factory. During their visit, some children get into a lot of trouble because of their bad behavior. Nevertheless, only Charlie is well-behaved, so Willy Wonka decides to give the factory to Charlie.

I really like reading this interesting book and my favourite part of the story is when Charlie wins the golden ticket because the probability is definitely small! If I were Charlie, I would make a lot of candies for the poor children to bring them joy and love. This is the end of my book report. Thank you for listening.

These days I have been reading a book called Harry Potter. The whole series is about Harry Potter and his awesome adventures. He meets a lot of new friends while he goes to his new school. The school is a mysterious magical school called Hogwarts. Harry and his friends encounter a lot of interesting adventures there. In the end, Harry and his friends successfully defeat Voldemort, a dark wizard who wants to kill Harry and rule over the magical world.

I think the book is very interesting and meaningful. I like the storyline and how the book is written in a mysterious way because it interests me. I like reading books and guessing what will happen next.

My favourite character in the book is definitely Harry Potter because he is very brave and he never gives up. If I were Harry Potter, I would keep trying my best to defeat Voldemort and bring peace to the magical world. From the series, I have learnt to be brave and not give up easily. I also learnt that teamwork makes dreamwork. We need to work together to achieve what we want. It is easier than working alone. This is the end of my book report. Thank you for listening.
